

Paper power

THEY are touted as Hollywood's favourite secret of beauty and well-being.

Frownies Facial Pads are said to have been taking years off famous faces for more than 100 years. Celebrities like Renee Russo, Glenn Close and Meryl Streep are said to owe their ageless looks to these pads.

Now, every woman on the street can get a helping hand from these face shapers.

The beauty aids are made of unbleached chemical-free paper, with a vegetable-based adhesive. Apparently, they act like a splint to hold facial muscles in place.

They are said to "train" crow's feet, fine lines and naso-labial ones to relax.

You can apply frownies to the forehead, corners of the eyes and mouth, and enjoy "yoga for the face"!
